What a wet and windy half term it has been. The patios have been flooded, the felt roofing of one shed has blown off and some of our smooga has fallen over, but other than that we made it! We had a busy week, starting with a Superhero workshop for all classes on Monday morning. The children created individual Superhero characters, travelled to Party Land in a Superhero Sonic Rocket improvisation and learnt the Rocket in my Pocket song. The Reception children wrote about their super veggies this week using their phonics and handwriting skills and producing some lovely work. Year 1 has started a new unit in English all about Superheroes with the aim to write their own comic strips next term. It would be wonderful if any children could bring in and share their comics with the class for inspiration and good examples. Please ensure these are age appropriate. In Maths they have tackled counting in 2s and 5s, looking at the patterns these numbers make on a number square and when this skill may be useful in our counting. Year 2 have been writing aliens poems this week. To finish off this half term they made (and ate) fraction pizzas.

Your children should have brought home a poem to learn and a review page. Please also continue to help your child practise their Phonics and Maths skills over the half term. Little and often is the key.

We hope you have a lovely half term with plenty of fun family activities. We look forward to welcoming you all back on Monday 24th February!

WASHING HANDS

We had a special assembly with the children today, talking about germs and reminding them how to wash their hands properly. We used the 'NHS Wash your hands song'.
