ASSEMBLY CERTIFICATE

Reception: Nishan, for showing excellent behavior in class.

Year 1: Shiloh, for showing great critical thinking in science and maths.

Year 2: Alfie, for fantastic effort in all lessons.

On Tuesday we invited you, the parents, in for our Topic Finale: A Medieval Banquet. The children were so excited in their preparations for this event as they had already made castles and bowls to exhibit, which have been on display in the classrooms as a reminder. We were very impressed with the Archery Club's bravery for a last-minute call up to demonstrate their skills in front of you all. And again, well done to our Poetry Competition winners for reciting their poems once more for us all to enjoy. On the morning of the Banquet, all children and staff gathered in the hall to prepare the scrummy animal rolls. It was wonderful to see many families sitting and enjoying a meal together. And again, as always, thank you to my wonderful staff for making this happen!

Reception have spent lots of time in the sun this week, learning in their outside area. Lots of potions were made in our nature kitchen and they have been working well in teams playing with the skipping ropes and holding hoop races! The children have also been working on developing their writing skills this week: writing the sounds they know and using finger spaces for something special that may be delivered to you on Sunday 😊. In Year 1 the children have had a wonderful week outside, learning about capacity and volume in the sandpit and hunting for signs of spring in their science lesson (in which they applied their previous week's learning and identifying that we have hedgehogs on site through the droppings they left behind). This week year 2 have been writing stories based on Hansel and Gretel. They enjoyed writing recipes for the bread they made on Tuesday. They have also been learning more about 2D shape. In PSHE they have discussed the importance of medicine safety. Enjoy another sunny weekend!
