Welcome back to the last half term of the year. It is going to be a busy one! We had a noisy start to the term with a Samba drumming workshop on Tuesday. The children were extremely well behaved and were able to use a variety of drums using call and respond. It was simply amazing. Please have a look at the news item on our website to find out more. Reception have settled back in brilliantly this week and the children have spent lots of time outside enjoying the lovely sunshine. They are very excited about our new People Who Help Us topic for this half term and this week learnt about the role of doctors and nurses. The children learnt about the parts of their bodies, looked at x-ray pictures and made some amazing pasta skeletons. Year 1 is revisiting counting and place value, this time with numbers up to 100. They are able to use a variety of equipment (and their pictorial representations) to build and describe these numbers. In English they have started a new unit all about superheroes; those that are famous and those that we meet every day. We will work towards creating a class book for the children to enjoy and read in their independent learning time. Year 2 are learning about the author Anthony Browne. They are reading a range of his books, finding similarities and differences. They have been practicing the maypole and are already mastering the 'Spider's web'. In maths they have been revising 2D shapes and their properties and have enjoyed using these making shape patterns. We have started our whole school country dancing practice in earnest. We have practiced 3 of the 5 dances so far as well as Cotton Eyed Joe. We hope to be sharing all this with you subject to Boris' announcement on Monday. Please may I remind you to apply long-lasting sun cream and bring in a sunhat every day, while this nice sunny weather continues. Have a great weekend!
