Another week has flown by, with more rain but also more wonderful events at school. It was so special to welcome you all to our Harvest Festival on Tuesday morning. A first performance for our Reception children and didn't they do well? We are very proud of all our children, their performances, the transitions and their behavior were all exceptional! Thank you for all your kind donations. They have been sent to the church for the Sunday Service and will be sent on to the Slough Foodbank.

Lots of other bits happened this week. Reception enjoyed the story of the Little Red Hen, baked their own bread and ate it. Year 1 and 2 have started to gather facts about their dinosaur for their film, using books and the internet. They will be working in groups of 2 or 3 for their film project and are very excited to be sharing this with you later this term.

Today was another exciting day as we walked to the church for a rehearsal of our Harvest Service. It is quite an undertaking to take 61 children for a walk, crossing 2 busy roads, but again they behaved beautifully and followed instructions perfectly. A big thank you to all our parent helpers today as we would not be able to do this without your help!

We finished the week with a smoothly run and well-attended cake sale and second hand uniform sale. Thank you to our PTA for organizing this. On Sunday we have the Harvest Service in St Anne's Church. It starts at 3pm, so please make sure you arrive in time. Your child should be wearing their school uniform and will sit with you until we call them to the front. I hope to see many of you at this wonderful event.

Have a lovely weekend!
